

Engineers Without Borders

Portland Professionals

Bringing the benefits of sustainable development to communities around the world by empowering people at home and abroad...

Mission

Engineers Without Borders – USA supports community-driven development programs worldwide through the design and implementation of sustainable engineering projects, while fostering responsible leadership

Action

Talented project teams made up of local volunteers are the driving force behind our projects. They give of their free time and expertise to address the urgent needs of our partner communities through sustainable engineering solutions.

Typical projects include an assessment phase in which community relationships are formed and project scope is defined. Following a design period, projects are implemented in partnership with the community and new needs are identified.

Projects endeavor to provide solutions that are sensitive to community capacity, socio-political, environmental, and economical conditions.

Active Projects

Ostiones, Ecuador

Les Anglais, Haiti

Mungere Village, Tanzania

Projects are funded through chapter fundraising, individual and corporate donations, grants, and in-kind donations by project team members.

What sets us apart?

People Power

We recognize the incredible potential of the communities where we work and the amazing amount of skill, energy and dedication in our local volunteer workforce. Our development model strives to utilize both to their fullest, tapping into unrealized potential to create lasting change.

The In-kind Advantage

We fundraise for the “brick and mortar”, but a major contribution comes in donated time and travel expenses by our volunteers. Since 2008, we have turned every $1 raised into more than $2 to benefit communities, not even counting the countless valuable hours our teams spent on planning and design. Our goal is to make every donated dollar go as far as it can.

Community Focus

We are a humanitarian international development organization, but we are also a community. We have regular meetings and a growing local presence in the engineering, public health and broader Portland community. Sponsoring an EWB chapter or project is a great way to be recognized locally!

Building a better world, one community at a time
